

Echo's manifesto

We all have a dream. Some of our dreams are small things like wanting a pet. Some are larger, like wanting to explore the universe. We all have a view of the world. Our dream is to make your dreams come true and to make our country the best it can be. We will Echo your thoughts and bring your dreams to light. You may wonder what we have to offer. Here is a list of things we will do to bring the limits further than they have ever travelled in our country.

Education:

In 2023 it was found that 85% of teachers feel they are underpaid while only 7% stand saying they have fair wages. Those with jobs all have been taxed 20% of a certain amount. We testify that we will lower tax to 15% tax for teachers so they get more income.

Migration:

You will find people who will disagree with our migration terms but this is the best way we have found to handle illegal immigrants. We make them legal. We will legalise immigrants who have fled from poor countries, war or horrible crimes in their area. Once confirmed they have fled for one of these reasons, they will be supplied with food, water, money and a flat or apartment with free rent for 2 months until they find work.

Environment:

We have decided to fund the Eden project and open more wildlife sanctuaries for our nature and beloved animals. We have also decided that any water companies that pollute our water will be fined.

Charities:

police and crime

We know that when criminals are in prison they can get lonely and feel like they have no one to talk to. Sometimes part of the reason they do crime is because they have come from a poorer or abusive background. If we win the election we will supply mental health workers in prison. We also think that the amount of antisocial behaviour has rocketed up with social media and criminal sanctions will be built for online and face to face abuse.

Economy

The conditions of railroads and transport around the country are now quite damaged so we plan to invest over 16 million pounds to fix and upgrade public transportation making the country a safer place.

NHS

We have noticed a drop in hospital employees such as doctors and nurses .So, to encourage more people to step in, we shall give doctors a 15% raise. We have noticed the homeless and people with no address cannot get to the hospital if injured so echo will build 5 hospitals around the country that do not require an address.

Tax

People often wonder what happens with tax. We shall give 20% of tax to the NHS and 15% to schools, the other 15% to the homeless and the other 50% will go to the usual things.
